BUSINESS BLOCK AT BRAND AND DORAN IS PROPOSED TO COST $25,000

M. M. Gillespie to Build Big Structure; H. E. Rommel Co. Will Spend $50,000

GLENDALE'S business section is moving north! That is the announcement of H. E. Rommel of the Rommel Construction company, 131 South Brand boulevard, which yesterday signed a contract for the erection of a two-story brick structure at the southwest corner of Doran street and Brand boulevard. M. M. Gillespie is the owner.

The cost of this improvement will be in the neighborhood of $25,000, with three store rooms on the fifty-foot frontage on Brand and two to the rear of 86 feet depth on Doran. There will be six double apartments upstairs.

Mr. Rommel also announces that as soon as the Gillespie block is well under way the Rommel Construction company will commence building on the northeast corner of Doran and Brand.

The plans call for another two-story brick structure, fifty feet on Brand and 140 feet on Doran, which will contain three stores on the boulevard and four to the rear. Double and single apartments will occupy the second floor.

The estimated cost of this last mentioned improvement is $50,000, representing one of the largest investments in business property ever made in Glendale.

"I believe Doran street and Brand boulevard to be the center of the best residential section of the city," declared Mr. Rommel in an exclusive interview with a representative of The Glendale Evening News.

"There is no question but what this activity will draw the shopping district north along Brand and I expect to see many buildings erected between Wilson avenue and Doran street along Brand boulevard within the next few months."

Use Airplane to Aid 7 Glendale People, Victims of Mad Dog

Seven people in Glendale bitten by a mad dog last week are alive and well today due to the quick work on the part of local and state health authorities in dispatching an airplane from Berkeley to Los Angeles with the virus preventative of rabies.

A four months old collie dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCoy of 439 West Maple street became mad last week, bit members of the family and neighbors and was sent to Dr. J. Whytock, veterinarian of 411 North Jackson street. There it died within thirty-six hours and an analysis of the brain at the state laboratories in Los Angeles proved it was suffering from rabies.

By that time several days had passed since the persons were bitten and immediate action was necessary. The local laboratories were lacking remedial fluid and a telegram to Berkeley brought the containers filled with virus to Los Angeles during the night.

The next morning injections were given the seven victims who are reported out of danger.

Senator Lodge is the elected leader of the republicans in the senate and inviting Borah to become one of that group known as "administration leaders" Harding intended no slap at Lodge. He did intend, however, to get Borah, the most independent and influential of the progressive group, to supplement Lodge's efforts to the end that there might be more complete harmony of action within G. O. P. ranks. The administration apparently has been concerned for some time about the party leadership in congress. The invitation to Borah was intended to swing him and the entire progressive group into line behind certain administration pleas yet to be developed as well as the tax and tariff measures now in the making.

BANK BANDIT SHOT BY M. G. COLLINS, LOCAL OFFICER

Suspect, Trying to Escape, Is Wounded After Warning by Motorcycle Policeman

Emanuel McKnight, shot by Motorcycle Officer Merle G. Collins of the Glendale police force, while trying to esacpe arrest on a charge of passing a worthless check at the Colorado Supply station, Colorado boulevard and Glendale avenue, early today confessed to taking part in the recent $33,000 robbery at the Huntington Park branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank.

McKnight, according to the Los Angeles police, has supplied them with names and details of the seven other men whom he says were implicated in the robbery and an immediate search of the city was started. The wounded man is dying from a shot which penetrated the backbone and nearly severed the spinal cord.

Officer Collins in company with Motorcycle Officer Walter Trautwein were given the information at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police J. P. Lampert that a bogus check had been given to Mrs. Julia Teitsworth, wife of Ezra Teitsworth, proprietor of the oil station, and they were detailed to apprehend the man when he turned in a rented car at the Haskin & Kerr garage. 756 Grand avenue. Los Angeles.

Seeks to Escape

It was there that McKnight tried to escape from the officers and Collins shot three times in the air after calling to the man to "halt in the name of the law." The prisoner kept on running and a fourth shot felled him to the sidewalk on Eighth St., just off Grand.

Officer Trautwein called the police ambulance and aided in holding back the crowd until Detectives Cato and Cline arrived on the scene and took the wounded man to the hospital. There he not only confessed to his part in the Huntington Park robbery, but boasted of "kiting" more than 800 checks since November, 1920. His first act was to dictate a letter to his "sweetheart," Mrs. Jeanette

WILLIAM S. HART WILL APPEAR AT C. OF C. RALLY

Movie Star to Participate In Great Celebration Behalf of New Membership

Announcement was made this afternoon at the directors' meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce that William S. Hart will appear at the rally to be held in the exposition tent one week from tonight when 100 new members will be introduced and a drive launched to bring the total membership to 1000. Wallace Reid and Roscoe Arbuckle also have been invited to lend their jovial presence.

E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary, also states that the Glendale Elks' band will give a concert that evening between 7:30 and 8:15 o'clock when the program of speeches and entertainment will begin. Arrangements already are under way for the accommodation of 10,000 people.

Messrs. Sharp and Guthrie appeared before the board in regard to establishing a manufactory for a cereal coffee substitute. W. E. Hewitt, chairman of the industrial committee, was present.

Other business coming before the board included a comprehensive report on the development of Patterson avenue park where the swimming pool will be located. It is planned to ask the city for money to increase the public playground to about twenty-five acres.

Committee's Statement

Following is the statement by the park committee which was read by Secretary James M. Rhoades:

"We have interviewed S. C. Hahne, executor of the Hahne estate, owners of adjoining land, and been advised that estate is now in court for settlement. Nothing can, therefore, be done by the heirs until passed on by the court.

"The executor suggests that, if necessary for Glendale to secure this land now, an offer could be made which he would submit to the court for approval, but that it is impossible for him at this time to make an outright gift of this land to the city no matter how well disposed he is to do so.

"Your committee also questioned Mr. Hahne on the attitude of the estate in selling an additional ten acres immediately adjoining the park on the north and extending to the Pacific Electric railway and recommends that an offer be made the estate in the sum of $10,000 for the twelve acres. As this is less than one-half the value of the land in this district, your committee believes this offer should be made without delay and necessary steps taken to secure it to the city before prices further advance. We have the assurance of Mr. Hahne that he will cheerfully assist in such a sale.

Kenilworth Avenue Plans

"Should the city secure the land referred to, it would become the owner of the extension of Kenilworth avenue to the railway tracks and solve the matter of opening that street.

"Mr. Hahne also agrees to co-oper-

Lawrence F. Chandler Receives Opportunity to Study Engineering

Lawrence F. Chandler of 809 East Harvard street will leave Glendale Thursday for his former home in Woodstock, Conn., where he will spend several weeks visiting with relatives and former friends and neighbors. From Woodstock he will go to Holyoke, Mass., where he will spend a few days at the home of his brother, H. B. Chaandler, who is engaged in business in that city. From there he will go direct to Pittsburgh, where he will become one of the employees of the Westinghouse Electric company of that city.

Mr. Chandler, who has been working for the Southern California Edison company in Los Angeles for the past few months, is a graduate of the California Institute of Technology of Pasadena, having completed his course of electrical engineering at that school last June. He was chosen from a large class of men to be one of two graduates who will be permitted to spend the next year at the Pittsburgh institution. This is an opportunity that is afforded but few electrical engineers in the country, and Mr. Chandler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Chandler of this city, are receiving congratulatory messages on their son's success.

Upon his return to Glendale next year Mr. Chandler will be given a new position with the Southern California Edison company.

AUTOMOTIVE, MERCANTILE, FASHION AND HOUSEHOLD DISPLAYS BY HOME FIRMS DESERVING PUBLIC APPROVAL

Exhibitors Spending Large Sums Of Money To Prove To Public It Pays To Trade In Glendale; Goods Shown Carried Regularly In Stock

ANOTHER LARGE AFTERNOON AND EVENING is being enjoyed today by the people of Glendale who are attending the Greater Glendale Merchants' Exposition. Yesterday was a big day—every promise to the public in the way of entertainment and education being fulfilled.

For those who have not yet visited the big tent on the Glendale Union High School athletic field, it might be well for them to know what they will see—the greatest array of automotive, mercantile, household and fashion exhibits ever gathered together here under one roof.

"Buying at Home" was the subect of a short address made by Director General H. Elmo LaBreque last night. He made it clear that the exhibitors are spending their money—thousands of dollars—to educate the public to the fact that they can buy just as good or better at the same price or a little less than in Los Angeles.

Weeks of thought have been used in the origin of these designs. Take for instance, H. L. Miller for whom I am speaking tonight. He spent $700 on that booth of his Isn't that worthy of your attention as you pass by the little bungalow?"

This afternoon, Mr. LaBreque announced, three judges experienced in the matter of exhibits will come from Pasadena, Pomona and Los Angeles to decide upon the winners of the three loving cups for the most original, most novel and most attractive booths.

"The men know the value of displays and where the merchants have concentrated in making their booths 'put over' the ideas desired in advertising," Mr. LaBreque told the big crowd which went home declaring it had the biggest 10 cents' worth of amusement to be obtained anywhere.

The Misses Davis, Howard and Ingle sang sweet melodies and Fred Jamison literally stopped the show by singing "Ain't We Got Fun," "Mammy" and other character songs.

Today the program will follow the same lines as that presented Monday, except that H. S. Webb & Company will furnish the styles for the fash-

Exposition Sidelights

Clothes washed while you wait—J. A. Newton's electric display.

Take a bath at McPeek's plumbing display—if you dare.

Sherrod's Specialty Shop should have a sign, "For Ladies Only." Its display is mostly corsets, and—oh, well, the ladies know.

Kiddies are blowing bubbles at the Jewel Electric display along the runway. They grab a handful of suds and hold it in front of a vacuum cleaner. Lots of fun—if you don't get soap in the eyes.

THEN YOU COULDN'T SEE THE MANNIKINS.

Somebody won twenty quarts of milk last night. The Glendale Creamery sure is generous, but pity the poor guy if he drank it all at once.

Five people couldn't serve Sierra Club ginger ale last night fast enough to supply the demand. That is a popular drink here for it is made in Glendale.

Ice cream sandwiches and fruit snow are the only other delicacies served except for such goods as Quality Doughnuts, Sunsweet Prune Pastri-Pie, Mothers' Cookies, etc.

"MEET ME AT THE EXPOSITION."

Fashion Show Blooms Just Like Flower Garden As Brightest Of Imported Organdies Are Displayed

By MARGARET SHARPE

THE BIG EXPOSITION TENT where is housed the Glendale merchants' display, burst suddenly into bloom Monday night when Miss Classie Marlowe's models tripped forth in the sheerest and brightest of imported organdies, turning the illuminated runway into a gay flower garden.

There is no longer any need to speak of the superior charm of the imported organdie. The dresses were so dainty, so sheer, so utterly bewitching that they received twice the applause the more sober fall garments had called forth.

These little ruffled, lacy frocks are being sold this week at Hatz' shop at a price that barely covers the cost of the material. And every woman knows that the chief virtue of imported organdie is that it can be laundered and relaundered without losing any of its life or quality.

The 9 o'clock fashion revue illustrated the fall styles in street garments. Dresses, suits and coats all showed a combination of slender and elaborate decoration. Furs, too, were shown, of a quality that gave much distinction to the revue.

Among the dress models were several neat creations in navy blue. One of tricotine with the new moire ribbon trimming was worn with a squirrel choker and one of Mrs. Gilbert's smartest little rose-colored turbans. The long lines of this dress were a distinct contrast to the one that followed it, which was in the new coat style, opening all the way to the hem and distinctly a blouse effect. The latter was trimmed in outline by rows of small coral buttons and a black and red hatters' plush turban with embroidered motifs completed the costume. A slim little blonde model was very charming in a navy tricotine with scalloped hem, trimmed with many bands of lacquered ribbon.

Richness and Beauty

One of the most stunning dresses was built of brown Canton crepe with elaborate inserts of gold embroidery. A luxurious kolinsk cape and a very French little feather turban crowned by a brilliant burnt orange curled ostrich plume added the finishing touches of richness and beauty.

A brown poiret twill with Canton crepe trimming was worn with a marten choker and one of the most attractive hats displayed, built of French blue duvetyn with a tam-o-shanter crown and a lining of rich lion's velvet. A costume that would give a tall graceful woman the distinction that is her right.

A seal brown Normandie coat with the new tuxedo front was one of the coats displayed, the coats that completely cover the costume and are delightfully loose fitting, yet as smart as any suit.

The long, knee-length, suit coat was also featured. Short coats departed with the high belt line and the long lines seen this fall harmonize perfectly with the long waisted blouses and dresses.

Striking Black Velvet

Miss Marlowe appeared only once during the revue of fall garments. She wore a very striking black velvet with a beautiful gray squirrel cape. The charming little toque that gave her outfit the crowning touch was one of Mrs. Gilbert's most attractive models, of gray silk duvetyn with accordion pleated ruffles. One of those hats that is not a hat but a work of art and most delightful in its simplicity.

After displaying the exquisite lines of the fur she wore, Miss Marlowe gracefully lifted it from her shoulders showing the velvet dress to be one of the new jumper effects, outlined in white braid with smart little pockets and tassels. A fragile shell pink georgette blouse with valenciennes lace inserts and edging was in frivolous contrast to the severe lines of the jumper.

Late Arrivals Displayed

Just before the opening of the revue a shipment of fall furs arrived at Hatz' shop and the two or three garments that it was possible to unpack were displayed at the revue. The two gray squirrel capes worn so effectively by Miss Marlowe

MUSIC SECTION IN MEETING

A special meeting of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club was called for yesterday afternoon by the curator, Mrs. Charles L. Marlenee, and was held at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Parker. Plans were discussed regarding the production of "The Persian Gardens" in the natural ampitheatre in Verdugo Woodlands September 17 for the benefit of the new Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse fund. This production will be the first big open air fete to be held in Glendale, and with such a beautiful natural setting as that in the Verdugo Woodlands, there is no reason but that this may be the harbinger of many more events similar to those given in the open air theatres of nearby cities.

A performance of "The Persian Gardens," the words of which were taken from the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, has never been given outside of the city of New York and will be sung and acted by the California Opera company under the direction of William G. Stuart, formerly manager of the New York Hippodrome, who has dramatized it. Club members present at yesterday afternoon's meeting included Mrs. Charles L. Marlenee, curator; Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mrs. Frank Arnold, Mrs. Colin Cable, Mrs. Paul Hoffman, Mrs. H. D. Thaxter, Mrs. L. N. Hagood, Miss Gertrude Champlain, Miss Ina Whitaker, Miss Eva Daniels and Mrs. C. A. Parker.

SERIOUS FIRE IS AVERTED

Prompt action of the Glendale fire department in answer to a call received last evening at 6:30 o'clock from Mrs. Pearl Pinoges of 415 Patterson avenue averted what might have become a serious conflagration. The fire started in the garage, evidently from short circuited electric wires. Mrs. Pinoges stated that she used the garage for a laundry room and that in the morning she had the current turned on the electric washing machine, but had not used it since. The entire garage was destroyed but on account of its close proximity to a large clump of eucalyptus trees and houses nearby, Mrs. Pinoges and neighbors consider that they were fortunate in not having further damage caused by the fire.

BUNGALOW DRESSES SOON WIN HEART OF HOUSEWIFE

Practical Clothes Are Shown by Models; Booths Display Latest Fall Styles

The fall hat models in Gilbert's booth on Monday afternoon showed a charming variation as to color and shape. That is the thing about the hats this season that is so pleasing. Such a variety makes it possible for every type of face to be becomingly framed in a smart little bonnet that will bring out its best points.

A cocky little brown turban made of hackle and curled ostrich feathers was the most unique thing in the group. Besides it was a semi-dress hat of coral hatters plush trimmed with motifs embroidered in white wool. Another noticeably smart creation was a copy of a Knox model in seal brown hatters plush with a cushion brim. Black is to be worn a great deal this fall and several very pretty black models were in evidence, beads and metal trimmings brightening them and their youthful lines removing all possibility of somberness. Gilbert's booth was garlanded with ferns and autumn leaves, a proper setting for the plush and duvetyn models.

Hatz's Booth Attractive

A special line of Kayser silk vests and bloomers in dainty pastel shades were featured in Hatz' artistic fall booth. A pink crepe-de-chine chemise and nightgown with the newest adaptation of applique Valenciennes lace. Two models in pink and white brocade corsets were shown. One of the "Modart" make, the other Hatz' feature corset with the practical front.

Webb's Display Pleasing

Beside representations of their smart men's wearing apparel, Webb's Dry Goods Store had on display two very attractive women's garments. A rich black Canton crepe dress, embroidered in black and white, showed something in the matrons' fall styles and besides it a dark blue crepe-de-chine blouse with white embroidery.

Show Bungalow Dresses

Miss Classie Marlowe's models paraded during the afternoon wearing the prettiest and most practical little bungalow dresses you ever saw. They were made of bright Japanese crepes, combining contrasting colors and trimmed with gay embroidery and smart little pockets.

The mannikins looked utterly charming in these little house frocks. But not half so charming as Glendale's pretty housewives would look similarly attired. When such pretty things can be purchased at one's own door, so to speak, and at a price that seems almost absurd, it is so reasonable, there is no real reason why madame should not look just as attractive while she is getting the breakfast and tidying up the house as she does when she goes out to tea.

Sherrod's Specialty Shop

Sherrods' Specialty Shop showed some of the newest things in corsets and brassiers. This booth is one of the most artistic ones at the exhibition. An oval hand decorated mirror has been constructed, in which a living model displays the latest and daintiest lingerie.

Pretty and Practical

In spite of the intense heat a great many women took advantage of the opportunity to see the pretty house frocks displayed, and general comments were heard to the effect that the display was the prettiest and most practical ever presented in Glendale.

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION

During the after-dinner speaking, the toastmaster saw Jones, a somewhat shady character, slip two spoons in his vest pocket.

"Gentlemen," he said, "there is nothing to add after all this brilliant speaking, so I will try to entertain you with a little parlor magic. You see I take two spoons. I slip them in my vest pocket. Presto—and they are in the pocket of Mr. Jones. Mr. Jones, will you please corroborate my statement?"

Jones, not to be outdone, rose.

"I'm rather handy at that sort of thing myself," he said. "Presto—and they are back in the pocket of the toastmaster. Mr. Toastmaster, if you don't corroborate my statement, I'll have you searched on the spot."

BEAUTY OF VERDUGO WOODLANDS TOLD AT EXPOSITION

F. P. Newport Company Spreads Gospel of 'Own Home In Foothill Section'

The F. P. Newport company, subdividers of Verdugo Woodlands, has a large part of its salesforce at the exposition every afternoon and evening getting acquainted with local people, many of whom do not realize that this beautiful foothill tract lies within the city limits. General Manager W. L. Twining was present in person last night and R. D. Horton, salesmanager, reported "business good," with C. L. Stevens, W. W. Rainey, J. L. Judy, J. A. Johnson, C. R. Phillips and O. J. DeMars assisting him. In another column the F. P. Newport company is extending an invitation to everyone in Glendale to see their exhibit—and then see Verdugo Woodlands.

Purchaser of Studebaker

Dr. P. O. Lucas was the second purchaser of a Studebaker Special Six at the exposition, according to Don Packer of the Packer Auto company, San Fernando Valley distributors. W. L. Twining, general manager of the F. P. Newport company, purchased the beautiful Special Six that was on display Saturday evening.

Throw Real Money Away

Prizes and merchandise given away at the exposition this week will total not less than $15,000 if all of the merchandise orders are used. It is almost laughable to see usually thrifty people actually throw coupons, representing real money, to the four winds as they leave the tent. The underlying idea of this generosity on the part of the merchants is to convince customers they can "Buy at Home" and save carfare at least.

Ask Him to Sing Something

Joe Rhodes, whose voice has won wide recognition in Glendale, sings any popular number desired at the Brunswick display of the Glendale Phonograph company. He is accompanied by Mrs. Rogers. Any record is played by request, too, according to Jack Jenkins, in charge of the booth.

Buick Sales at Exposition

W. A. Tanner of the firm of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., local Buick representatives, reports the sale and delivery of a coupe and a roadster on orders taken at the exposition. He is well pleased with the results of the show so far and thinks his "Buick Four" display is the best ever.

Guess and Win Phonograph

The Barnes-Shuck Music company is advertising the exposition in a novel manner. Electric chimes in an automobile are paraded through the streets with the desired results. This concern is giving away a phonograph to the person guessing the number of needles in a glass jar. Guesses are nearly as numerous as the needles, so you know just about how many there are.

STRIVIN' REPORTER, MERE MALE, STRIVES TO REPORT DRESS SHOW

'Dear Katie's' Friend Greatly Interested Whether Shoulder Straps Are Going To Slip; They Didn't

GLENDALE, Aug. 30, 1921.

Dear Katie: You know as how I wrote a nice long artikle yesterday about the Merchants' Exposition and I give you a lot of facts about the matter, but just the same the boss and me got into a awful argument about it afterwards, just cause I didn't make no mention about the fashion show.

And right away I says to him, what the Sam Hill do mere strivin' reporters know about the adornment or vica versa of the fair sex, if anything.

I says, what I DON'T know about them there frilly frocks from France would fill a book as big as the telephone directory and twice as interestin.

Well, Katie, the boss sit down at his typewriter and begun poundin away and I couldn't figure out whether he was goin' to be friendly to me or was figurin on bustin me one on the nose for luck. Anyhow, I didn't wait to see.

I come home again and I decided as how I better write a little artikle about the fashion show, so after I had ate my supper, I put on my $3.00 silk shirt, which the same is pleated in the front and wrinkled in the back and then I put on my blue tie with the pink poka dots on it and with a red carnation in my hand I looked too stunned for anything.

Well, when I got there, the fashion show was just startin to commence and there was a awful mob of people standin around.

Hits the Pipe—Sewer Pipe

Then all to once the band begun to play a Peresian selection with a Glendale accent on the base drum and then a awful pretty lady come strollin out on a elevated sidewalk and outa pure awe and surprise, I backed up gracefully and fell over a innocent sewer pipe.

That was Miss Classie Marlow, Katie, and she looked as pretty as a million dollars in nickels. Well, before I knew where I was at, she was gone again and I didn't have no chance to see what she was wearin, if anything.

Then next come a lot of dainty damsels that was all under the draft age and they begun to parade up and down the sidewalk and each one was wearin a different outfit and all of 'em dressed up like they was goin somewheres.

Then I got out my book and my pencil, so I could keep tab on 'em.

Well, Katie, there was airy gowns for tea, airier gowns for dancin, airest gowns for evenin and I begun to look for one made outa just plain air, but they didn't show that one.

Well you got to imagine some things Katie, and still if you got any imagination you can't eat hash. Ain't it so?

Then another fair maiden come trippin out over a loose board, lightly and daintily, garbed in a festered creation of lace curtains and dream like draperies, which hung with a circular effect, just too sweet for anything, in the direction of Brand boulevard and ended in a graceful sweep to the waist line, wherever that is.

"Perfect Love." Dear! Dear!

Another one, Katie, was adorned in a perfect love of a hat, trimmed with nicotine and ruffles of lace and riveted on the hem in a charming manner with buttons to match. The skirt itself which was tucked in on the bias was shorter than a dyin' bumble bee's last breath.

By this time, Katie, I begun to feel like I had come by request and was stayin on purpose.

Then there was the peek-a-boo waists and peek-a-boo stockins, for that mob of peek-a-boo spectators.

And after the chiffons and slip offs was showed, I wouldn't of been surprised to of seen one of them dames come out wearin' a string of empty spools. In another place a fair maiden that wasn't wearin much of anything except a pleasant expression would of made the "Perils of Pauline" look like "Safety First." The shoulder straps of her gown had a awful uncertain slip off appearance and I was afraid one of them there straps would break and if it did it would have been the end of a perfect lady. Well, Katie, I hung around quite a while, till I began to feel like I was sufferin from eye-strain, but that there strap didn't break so I come home.

These gown and bonnet architects has got a nice show, Katie, but as far as you're concerned, I guess you better play safe and just keep on wearin your gingham gown and sun bonnet. And as for this here artikle about the Fashion Show, maybe I made a couple errors more or less, but "as ye sew, so shall ye rip," as the sayin is.

Yours, by request,
E. C. HALE.

NOT RESPONSIBLE

Dolly was taking her baby sister out for a walk one afternoon, and, being attracted by a milliner's shop, she put her charge on the pavement and went to select—in imagination—a hat.

Meanwhile the baby crawled into the middle of the road, disorganizing the traffic, so that a policeman came up and demanded of the small girl: "is this your baby?"

"Oh! no, sir," she said; "it belongs to my mother!"

And the crowd smiled.

were among the late arrivals and a Hudson seal coat with squirrel collar and cuffs reminded those who were suffering from the intense heat that winter, with its cold winds and frosty nights is almost upon us. The fur coat was of the thirty-eight inch length, the least cumbersome style for a fur garment and would be ideal for the lady who loves to motor during the winter months. Worn with a smart plush sailor it made a costume that brought envy and desire to the heart of every woman present.

Reduction at Gilbert's

An added attraction at the revue was the announcement that Gilbert's hat shop was presenting every patron at the exposition with a slip entitling the holder to a 15 per cent reduction on any hat in her stock. This special offer will not be needed to attract the women of Glendale to her shop if all her hats are as pretty as the ones displayed Monday night, and Mrs. Gilbert insists that they are. Even the models have been enthusiastic about them and that is the greatest compliment of all, as most of these models have worn hats at the Los Angeles and eastern fashion shows and have learned to know them.

DERIVED FROM OLD FRENCH

"Tron" is old French for weighing machine or beam. The Tron church in Edinburgh took its name from Tron near which it was built. Glasgow has a Trongate. Formerly Tronweight was standard weight in Scotland for cheese, butter, wool and other produce.

ion revue. Both men's and women's exclusive ready-to-wear apparel will be shown.

Boy models will be introduced for the first times tonight, so girls are especially invited.

The Page Furniture company provided a stage setting of porch chairs last evening and tonight a complete kitchen will be shown. But there are certain things about every booth which are new and worthy of inspection, even if they are not displayed from the stage. See all, hear all, is good advice to the audience. And say little while the models are on the runway, warns Director LaBreque.

In behalf of the exhibitors it was stated that the clothes the models wore—stunning creations—are actually carried in stock in Glendale stores. After praising the merchants, Mr. LaBreque turned his attention toward the climate.

"Glendale is the only city in which I have ever conducted an exposition or show under canvas where you have a climate so calm that I do not have to fear for the $100,000 worth of merchandise here. Yes, we have warm days here. But when you go to bed at night a blanket feels comfortable."

Gold and merhcandise prizes are given away once in the afternoon and twice in the evening and one little lady last night was so tired that when the F. P. Newport Co. was to award her $5 in cash, she didn't want to walk around the tent to get it.

"Can you beat that?"

CLEANUP SQUAD OF RED CROSS WILL NOT COME HERE

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Chairman of Local Chapter, Gets Letter From Official

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of the Glendale chapter of the American Red Cross, has just received the following communication from the Pacific Division, A. R. C.:

"My Dear Mrs. Bartlett: It is not the plan of the 'Cleanup squad' to visit Los Angeles at this time. Los Angeles has a complete veterans' bureau unit—that is, department of public health service, federal board for vocational education and bureau of war risk insurance, which unit is equipped to serve at any time men whose cases originate in or near Los Angeles.

"Please suggest to former service men who reside in Glendale that by immediately communicating with Dr. E. L. Wemple, supervisor in charge of veterans' bureau, Wilcox building, Los Angeles, their claims for compensation, training, etc., will be given precedence just as the cases of those men in other localities who have been able to make contact with the cleanup squad are being considered.

"It would be most inconvenient and expensive as well for Glendale men to travel all the way to Riverside or San Diego.

"ELGIE M. ASHMUN,
"Director Service Claims and Information.
"Post-War Services."

Provisions Made Plain

George Filmer, manager of the Pacific division, states in another letter to Mrs. Bartlett:

"All men and women honorably discharged having a disability of ten per cent or more resulting from service and in line of duty are entitled to compensation from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

"All honorably discharged men and women having a disability incurred in the service or aggravated by service, regardless of percentage, which constitutes a vocational handicap, are entitled to training under the jurisdiction of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

"Applications for federal board training must be filed prior to December 16, 1922.

"If medical treatment or hospitalization is necessary for sickness or injury resulting from service, it will be provided by the public health service."

J. W. M. Burton Says One Deal Leads Into Another; No Complaint

J. W. M. Burton of the firm of Burton & Chandler, realtors, 133 South Brand boulevard, tells an interesting yarn about last week-end and a trip which he took.

He got up early Saturday morning and packed the King 8 with camping equipment. Around 8 o'clock as he and Mrs. Burton were ready to sally forth, the telephone rang and it was necessary for him to sell the Nathan Rigdon residence at 411 North Isabel street to Mr. Crandall of Ios Angeles. The consideration was $8000.

When he arrived at his office to close the transaction a man from Burbank wanted to trade a business lot for the big car. This necessitated repacking all of the baggage on Mr. Burton's Studebaker Special Six.

It was a little after 9:30 o'clock when the week-end trip to Santa Monica canyon began. And Mr. Burton came home with a sunburn equal almost to the commissions on the two deals.

MANY QUESTIONS BARRED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Harding's national conference on unemployment will not be allowed to become the "battleground for warring organizations," Secretary Hoover declared. No contentious questions will be brought up, he said. Wages, the closed shop and conditions of labor will be barred. Members of the conference will be asked to devote their time to discussing intermittency and irregularity of unemployment with the hope of obtaining a unity of action that will benefit both employer and employe, the secretary said.

APPOINTMENT ENDS RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Appointment of John T. Williams as United States attorney for the northern California district marks the end of a six months' battle over the appointment. Six candidates were involved, all with strong support. Williams was the favorite of Senator Hiram W. Johnson's friends here and is considered a Johnson appointee. Williams has practiced law in California since 1899 and has been prominent in Republican politics. He is a native of Ventura, where his father was formerly a superior judge.

Booster Associations Will Hold Gatherings

After having discontinued all activities for a period of several weeks, the members of the Glendale Gateway club will resume their meetings starting with a gathering on Thursday night of this week. The meeting will take place in the former meeting place at the branch library building at the corner of Brand boulevard and Los Feliz road, and an exceptionally large attendance is expected.

According to several of the officers of the association, the principal question to be brought up at Thursday night's meeting will be that of the possibility of merging the society with the new improvement association that was organized last week by the business men of the southern section of the city. At the same time the new organization will conduct a similar meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall at 1500 South San Fernando road.

The temporary officers of the new association are G. E. Schram, president; Harry E. White, vice president; C. L. Brenkman, secretary.

Plenty of Action In Program at Glendale

A real red-blooded program is offered at The Glendale Theatre tonight.

Buck Jones enacts the role of a peacemaker in his latest William Fox picture "Straight From the Shoulder." Now, every one knows about what happens to peacemakers. But can you imagine what will happen to Jones in the wild and wooly west when he attempts to make peace between "Wild Bill" Higgins and "Wild Bill's" wife? Poor Jones.

A two-part comedy, "The Wood Simp," will bring tears of laughter to your eyes and the eleventh episode of "The Diamond Queen," featuring beautiful Eileen Sedgwick, will round out the big bill.

One week from today the second big vaudeville program makes its appearaance at the Glendale. It is equally as satisfying as Saturday's shows, too, it is announced.

Glendale W. C. T. U. In All Day Session Here

The all-day meeting of the W. C. T. U. institute was held yesterday at the First Baptist church, Mrs. Maude Perkins, national officer, in charge. The meeting proved to be a very profitable one and was given over to a discussion of the young people's work. During the meeting solos were sung by Mrs. Dr. J. Richardson and Mrs. Floyd Mercer.

At noon the meeting adjourned to the basement where a very delicious luncheon was served. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. O. F. Palmer, Mrs. R. W. Morton, Mrs. Goff and Mrs. E. Classey. Those in charge of the all-day meeting were Mrs. Edith Dockeray, Mrs. Dr. J. Richardson and Mrs. R. W. Morton.

In the evening a large group attended the meeting at the home of Mrs. Samuel Dick, 309 North Louise street. The house was very beautifully decorated with flowers which were furnished by Mrs. Dick's neighbor, Mrs. V. M. Hollister.

Mrs. Perkins, the national director, gave an eloquent talk to the young people, explaining their responsibility and obligation as young people, to America. At the close of this very interesting and educational address a young people's branch was organized with the following officers: Haye Victor Berg, president; Miss Helena Richardson, vice president; Miss Ruth Palmer, secretary and Mrs. James Sherwood, treasurer. Mrs. Effie Weien of Eagle Rock was elected branch secretary. Everett Anderson was elected secretary of evangelistic and Christian citizenship work. Other department officers will be elected at a later meeting.

Several solos were rendered by Miss Helena Richardson, Miss Louise Ayala, and Everett Anderson. These were greatly enjoyed by all. Refreshments of fruit punch and wafers were served and everyone declared Mrs. Dick a fine hostess.

Mrs. Maude Perkins, national director of young people's work with the W. C. T. U., visited the young people's meeting at the various churches Sunday evening and spoke a few minutes at each of the meetings. Since her stay in Glendale from Saturday until Tuesday morning, Mrs. Perkins has been entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs R. W. Mottern of 211 North Adams street.

ANOTHER THEORY OF FLOOD

A new theory of the flood has been discovered in South Africa. Hydrographers investigating the waterways of Uganda have found indications that Lake Victoria and other central African lakes were at one time vast inland seas, which a little excess of rainfall would cause to overflow into the lands to the north. The discovery of primitive stone implements along the old water levels prove these to have been within the "human" period.

Meeting of Thursday Afternoon Club Called

Although it had been previously announced that the Thursday Afternoon club will conduct no business or social gatherings until the beginning of the winter season in October, Mrs. E. V. Bacon, who is the president of the organization, has called a special meeting to take place on Thursday afternon of this week.

The purpose of the special session is for the discussion of a number of business matters that have recently come before the officers, and a full membership is requested to be present at the gathering, which will be held in the branch library building on Brand boulevard and Los Feliz Road.

MRS. SKELTON BUYS HOME

Mrs. E. H. Skelton, until recently a resident of Philadelphia, last week purchased two lots in the 1200 block on South Central avenue, upon which a modern six-room bungalow is already being constructed. Until her new home is completed Mrs. Skelton is living with her children at Long Beach.

W. R. JENKINS BUYS LOTS

W. R. Jenkins of Los Angeles purchased during the past week two adjoining lots on Gardena avenue, and he is making plans for the erection of two houses on them within the next few weeks.

T. J. MORGAN BUYS LOT

T. J. Morgan of East California avenue has recently purchased a lot on Gardena avenue, and is planning to build in the near future.

Report Good Demand for Fairview Tract Lots

Hamlin & Hepburn of 426 Title Insurance building, Los Angeles, reports that forty-eight lots out of fifty-nine in Fairview tract have been sold in the last two months. Nearly all of the purchasers expect to build and move on to the tract within the next six months or so.

The lots sold include all of those on Vine avenue, Sixth street, and Raymond avenue. Those remaining which have not been sold are a few lots on Fourth street, which will have a value for business sometime in the near future, which makes them snaps at the price at which they are held, being $325 to $400.

BEES,! BEES! AND MORE BEES!

WATSONVILLE — J. V. Cullen, who was driving from Los Angeles to San Francisco in his Ford sedan, arrived here with the machine badly smashed, battered and scratched. Asked what had been the trouble, he said some bees had done it. On them, too, he blames his swollen face and cuts. Shortly after he had passed Orcutt, he said, he opened the upper half of his windshield. A few moments later he encountered a big swarm of bees which were circling around over the road in mass formation. Before he could stop or put down the windshield his machine had dashed through the swarm and had scooped about a bucketful in the enclosed car.

Cullen got rattled, forgot his steering wheel, and began fighting the bees and drive them out of the car. The bees started a counter attack. The machine, left to its own devices, plunged off the road into some sand, and overturned. One door was on the bottom and the other was sprung so that Cullen couldn't open it. Hence Cullen took the line of the least resistance and went through the top, completely wrecking it.

There is no dew after a windy night; it is evaporated as fast as produced.

LIGHTNING RODS

If a lightning rod is properly grounded, the danger arising from the use of non-insulated fasteners is negligible. Years ago the use of glass insulators set in outriggers was very common. It was a good but perhaps an unnecessary practice. If a rod is well grounded in wet earth a bolt of lightning is not likely to leave a good conductor and enter a poor one.

CHAIR SILENCERS

In rooms where the floor is not covered with a soft carpet the moving of chairs is often the cause of a good deal of noise. The trouble may be remedied in this way: From thick felt cut small rounds to glue on to the feet of the chairs. These can be secured from an old hat or cut from an odd piece of floor covering. The chairs can then be moved about quietly even on the hardest floors.

L. A. HART STATES SOME FACTS FOR CITY'S GROWTH

There Are Real Reasons for Glendale's Advancement, Is Statement by Realtor

The remarkable growth of Glendale during the past few years has been the topic of considerable discussion, not only of the people of the state of California but of the entire United States, its fame having been sung to all four corners of this wonderful country.

In an interview with L. A. Hart, real estate agent of 120 North Brand boulevard, he explained some of his theories as to why Glendale is growing at such a remarkable rate, as follows:

"What has been said by some of the world's largest real estate operators about Los Angeles and its future growth, can be aptly applied to Glendale. There is a reason why Glendale is enjoying such a healthy growth at this time, and back of this reason are facts based on solid concrete foundation.

"First of all, the citizens of Glendale are living in the closest residential suburb of Los Angeles. And Los Angeles in itself is a city reckoned to be the largest city within thirty years in the United States. There is every reason to substantiate this argument.

Suitable For Children

"In talking with home seekers who are coming to Glendale every day I find the majority of them have in mind one common cause or reason for selecting this fair city for their future home. The main reason offered is that they are seeking a place with an environment suitable for the rearing of their children and also a place close to the 'Big City' for business reasons, and last, but not least, a place that offers a reasonable opportunity for their investments, which shows a promise of fair return on the money invested.

"Such a place is Glendale, and more than that, for our climate is unsurpassed within the borders of the United States, and only recently a noted traveller remarked that the scenery of Switzerland cannot be compared with the scenery of the valley surrounding Glendale.

"These are things the people in Glendale all know and are sending 'S. O. S.' calls back east every minute to inform their relatives and friends what this beautiful country has to offer them.

Need Regular Postoffice

"The postal receipts for one month with the local postoffice will verify the statement that this city is crowding the postoffice out of house and home. Uncle Sam is slow to see conditions here as they really are, but do not fear but that we will have ample quarters within time to take care of the large increase in population that is forcing in on us every day.

"The motto of this argument is this: 'What are you doing as a future citizen of Glendale to protect yourself with a building site for a home?' The cold facts stare us in the fact stronger and stronger every day. They point to but one thing and the seriousness of the situation should be carefully considered at once.

"Now is the time to buy lots and homes in Glendale while you have the choice of locations on established close-in thoroughfares. The wise buyers offer this argument and it is well taken: 'What is a few hundred dollars one way or the other when compared with location?' The close in lots and homes are worth more, but the city is only in its infancy, and no matter what the present price the increase is sure to come. It is said that many of the old-timers here have grown to see things with such a close range that the newcomers are making many of the wise purchases. But, remember this, the old-timers are not all asleep. The time to strike is now."

'The Bronze Bell' Is Palace Grand Picture

Thomas H. Ince's latest production for Paramount, "The Bronze Bell," a dramatic story of British East India, based on Louis Joseph Vance's fine novel of the same name, is the feature at the Palace Grand Theatre today and tomorrow. The story is said to be highly dramatic and the Oriental sets are most magnificent. A fine cast of players headed by Courtenay Foote and Doris May interpret the various roles.

With the rebellions of today adding flavor to the story, there is no question but what "The Bronze Bell" is one of the best drawing cards offered. Larry Semon in "The Bakery," Bray cartoons and "Pals and Petticoats" complete the film program while Henri Monette presides as the console of the Wurlitzer.

GIRL REPORTER HAS RIDE IN AIRSHIP WITHOUT WINGS

Buick Machine Travels Upon Ground and Is Also Able to Rise In Air

By CORINNE E. ORFF

An airplane without wings!

A machine which will rise above the ground when going more than sixty miles an hour!

That was demonstrated to me yesterday afternoon when I rode in an air-propelled car, constructed like an automobile, with the Buick valve-in-head motor providing the power.

The engine had been taken out of a Buick—all except the motor base; and the motor is set two feet higher in the aero-car and turned backwards. The only control is the gas and foot brake. In case the machine should have run into the curb it would have been necessary to be towed out, as there were no reverse gears in the reconstructed car.

Machine on Streets Here

J. Marvin O'Neil, representing the Pacific coast distributors of the Buick motorcars, drove the machine about the streets with myself as passenger with the regulation flyer's hood and goggles to keep the wind out of the eyes.

While the Buick was well disguised, signs told of its unique purpose in demonstrating the power that carries many a motorist over redoubtable hills. Its appearance on the streets created considerable comment and I was surprised to learn that the machine had been running ever since May 14 without an overhauling. Mr. O'Neill tells me that 99 per cent of the airplane motors made today are of the same valve-in-head type as is found in the Buick car.

Delighted with Publicity

Tanner & Hall, Ltd., local Buick agents were truly delighted with the publicity they obtained and R. L. Galvin, salesman, has an added talking point for convincing customers about the merits of the car he represents.

Oh, yes Luckily we did not go over sixty miles an hour, for in the first place we would have been "pinched" by the traffic officers and secondly, we might still have been up in the air.

But if anyone has a regular airplane with wings n'everything, they will find a flying enthusiast at The Glendale Evening News office.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Federal officials investigating the alleged $50,000,000 swindling operations of Charles W. French said that thus far they have "established no definite connection between the French ring" and several Iowa concerns which are having financial difficulties. Acting District Attorney Clinnin sought more information on French's operations on the Pacific coast. He asked Los Angeles authorities to investigate affairs of a banker of that city, who Clinnin believes was mixed up in French's deals. This banker recently had $150,000 in notes circulating in Chicago and vicinity.

SPRING CHICKEN IS KEPT YEARS BY DEHYDRATION

At Least Experiment Will Be Made by Company; Notes of San Fernando Valley

"Have a helping of dehydrated chicken? You can't tell the difference."

It may be fried, stewed, fricaseed, roasted or baked. Will keep indefinitely. You may be able to eat "real spring chicken" years and years after dehydration if you live long enough.

An experiment is to be tried out this week in the dehydration plant of the Burbank Canning company that may become the basis of an immense commercial enterprise.

Another Large Power House

The Bureau of Power and Light of Los Angeles city will establish another large power house in the San Fernando valley, which will have a capacity of 8000 horsepower and will bring the total capacity of the city's power system up to 80,000 horsepower. The plant will be located near the San Fernando boulevard at the foot of the Cascades, providing another point of interest to the many motorists who pass through the valley.

Store and Office Building

A big improvement for the corner of San Fernando boulevard and Orange Grove avenue in Burbank has been assured by Dr. E. H. Thompson, the owner, who will soon begin the erection of a modern store and office building, incorporating the present brick building occupied by the Luttge grocery for many years.

Electric Fans Please Cows

The Fred Hartsook ranch of Lankershim has recently installed electric fans in the test barns, and Earl Sturgis, superintendent in charge., says the increase in milk production since the introduction of the fans has been quite pronounced, in some cases the increase running as high as twenty pounds of milk per cow.

Opposed to Heavy Trucking

The Lankershim chamber of commerce at a special meeting commenced a fight against the heavy trucking on the county and state boulevards. The destruction of Lankershim boulevard in the past three months has aroused the indignation of the taxpayers to action and the fight is to be carried on until something is done to remedy the evil.

Moving Entire Office Force

The American Aluminum Metal Products company will, by the last of the week, have completed the moving of their entire office force to Burbank, the Scholtes residence on the San Fernando boulevard, near Turkey crossing, having been remodeled for their use.

Leads in Potato Shipping

Of the hundreds of cars of potatoes shipped from the San Fernando valley this season, Zelzah leads by more than fifty cars.

BLOODHOUND? AIN'T NO SUCH ANIMAL! SAYS REPORTER

All That He Can Find Seems to Be Brief Description of Noted Character

The bloodhound, as indispensable to posse pursuit as the high-powered automobile or the sawed-off shotgun, is almost as elusive as his prey.

This is the declaration of the newshound, who was used to track him down.

The newshound was sent out to locate the famous bloodhounds who in press and fable have been 'scouring,' polishing and uprooting the western landscape these many years in quest of desperadoes, murderers and unmasked bandits.

The newshound, after the approved fashion, was given the scent of a Pomeraian poodle, a Belgian police dog, a Chihuahua pup and a couple of plain dogs, and was told to locate the bloodhound. He was also given a small portrait, clipped from the encyclopedia, showing the bloodhound in ferocious posture, for purposes of comparison.

Then, baying loudly he was on his way.

He tried first the public library, and obtained the following description of the bloodhound:

Here's What It Is

"The bloodhound is a large dog which hunts by smell. It is of massive structure with large drooping ears, and smooth coat without fringe of hair on the ears, legs or tail. It has a fine head, narrow, and dome-like, with deep wrinkles on the forehead and between the eyes."

Thence he trailed to the police station, where he found two dogs. One was of massive structure, but had no wrinkles. The other had no fringes, and in fact was practically hairless, but it had no ears. Both, however, had strong smell, and there was no reason to presume they could not hunt by it. Indeed, it seemed likely that they would have to—or anything else they happened to be doing. But police asserted that neither were bloodhounds.

He went next to a detective agency. There were no dogs in the detective agency—only detectives. But there was one with a dome-like head.

Many Kinds, But Not It

Thence he followed the scent, growing warmer, to the sheriff's office. The sheriff showed him a pack of dogs that were sometimes used to hunt criminals. They had rough coats and no wrinkles.

As a last resort the newshound, flagging in the chase, went to the city pound. Here were dogs of nearly every kind, but there wasn't a bloodhound in the lot.

The poundmaster volunteered the information that the real, genuine bloodhound is a scarce article, and was never numerous. The bloodhounds that have appeared in fact and fiction were nearly always dogs of other breeds.

"I once saw a bloodhound," he said, "at a dog show. But any dog, if he has the right smell, and runs ahead of a wild-eyed citizen with a shotgun, is for all practical purposes, a bloodhound." The citizen," he added, "may in many instances be said to constitute a posse."

1 KILLED, 2 WOUNDED

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Aug. 30.—One man was killed and two were seriously wounded in the hills by a posse for following a daring hold-up of two mine officials of the New England fuel and transportation company near the company's low level mine. Part of the $25,000 payroll stolen was recovered from the bandit slain.

Paymaster David Richardson and Superintendent J. A. McCay were crossing a trestle leading from the railroad station when three masked bandits leaped from the sides and at the point of revolvers held them up. The escape was checked by men from the mine who formed a posse.

TEETH MUST BE WHITE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Wanted — Waitresses with white teeth. To find them is the quest of John Darling, hotel dining-room manager, who advertised as above today, in the effort to obtain the impossible.

"Hotels and restaurants have attained all that's desirable in tasteful surroundings and exquisite service," he said. "Our effort now will be to improve the waitress. There is nothing that I can think of more appetizing than a row of white teeth draped by the smile of an attractive girl. If she has white teeth she can't help but be attractive."

ANTIDOTE PROVES FATAL

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Aug. 30. Ray G. Northrup, said to have come here from Fresno, Cal., a month ago, is dead from taking a large dose of strychnine. According to authorities he used the poison as an antidote for a large quantity of bootleg whiskey. He is said to have a sister in Allentown, Pa.

Brightly-colored walls and other gay hues in factories and workshops are said to lead to increased production.

A very interesting gathering took place Sunday night at Burbank, when a large party from the Tropico Presbyterian church attended a union meeting there. There were members of the young people's societies from the Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian churches of Burbank.

The meeting was led by Miss Carol Duncan of the Tropico Presbyterian church. Miss Helena Richardson and Miss Dorothy Thompson sang a duet. Herbert Brucks and Walter Sullivan gave a very delightful dialogue.

Those who attended from the Tropico Presbyterian church were the Misses Margaret Richardson, Carol Duncan, Helena Richardson, Frances and Ruth Goldsborough, Dorothy and Georgia Thompson, Janice Kaley, Norma Wallace, J. Coke, Messrs. Neville Richardson, John Server, Walter Sullivan, Herbert Brucks and Harry Richardson.

After the Christian Endeavor meeting the young people stayed to attend the church service.

W. F. Hemenway Back From Auto Trip to Northern California

W. F. Hemenway, of the realty firm of Doner, Hemenway and Burns of 110 South Brand boulevard, and wife, 345 West California street returned Saturday from a most enjoyable month's trip to northern California, Washington and Oregon. They were met at San Francisco by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hatfield of Los Angeles, who made the trip north by boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Hemenway visited relatives and friends in San Francisco, Seattle, Portland and other northern cities. They motored over the scenic Columbia highway, visited Pacific Beach, Mt. Ranier and other points of interest.

Mr. Hemenway states that they made 4600 miles on the trip without any tire trouble whatsoever, coming back to Glendale with the same air in the tires as when they left.

COATING FOR TUBES

In the process of J. Marcusson, a resinous coating is given tubes or hollow bodies of cement, concrete or mortar by action of formaldehyde on phenols or other like compounds. The coating gradually becomes insoluble on exposure to air, and is thus given resistance to the action of mineral or fatty oils.

The first pages of the book will contain general booster information about Glendale as well as facts relative to industries, points of interest and city and county government.

The directory books will be given a general free distribution.

A nominal listing charge is being made for including your card in the work. No personal solicitation will be made but an invitation will be extended by telephone to co-operate in getting out this representative directory and booster book. "Girlie, always think of me when I pass away. Give me your word of honor you'll not live for Kennedy.

"Honey, I did all this for you. I will always love you—here on earth and up above. You're the only girl I have ever loved or ever will, so think of me always. Forever, Your Sweetheart."

Mrs. Mamie Vinzant, said to be a sister of McKnight, visited him at the hospital last night. He called for the officer who shot him and made the following statement:

"I don't bear him any malice. I admit he caught me fairly, and was only doing his duty when he shot me as I was running."

A bulletin from San Quentin recently asked for McKnight's arrest as a parole violator. Claude W. Loveless, Fred G. Millinette, Russell Jefferies and William Searby were names given the police as implicated in the Huntington Park robbery.

"Eight men were involved in the Huntington Park robbery, but only five went inside of the bank," McKnight explained in his statement to the police. The other three were lookouts. I hope you catch them all. They did me dirt," he added while gasping in pain and cursing his pals in crime.

Officer Collins Praised

High praise is given Officer Collins by both the Los Angeles and Glendale police for his "catch" and he shot to hit—with excellent results. Credit for the capture of the braggart "check kiter" also is due Mrs. Teitsworth, who tells her part in the quick-witted work as follows:

"My husband had gone downtown to get some tools. About 3 o'clock this man drove up in a Ford machine. There was a girl in the car with him. He did not drive the car into the filling station.

"He asked me for a 30x3 inner tube, and after I had given it to him he said he knew my husband quite well and told me he wanted to get three more tubes of the same size next week. Then he gave me a check for $20 on a fruit company. The name E. A. Chapman, manager, was signed to the check, which was on the Citizens National Bank of Los Angeles.

Check Is Endorsed

"He signed his name on the back of the check as E. A. Chapman, Jr., and when I seemed uneasy about taking it he offered to put the license number of his machine down for me. He called off the number. Then I grew curious and walked over to take a look at the license number. It was a different number.

"By this time he had driven away. I became more and more suspicious. Finally I went to a telephone and called up the Citizens' National bank. They knew nothing about the man, so I telephoned to the Motor Vehicle department to inquire if a man by that name had a machine listed. He had not. I called the police and gave the motorcycle officers the check."

Spanish Homes at Verdugo Woodlands

Up in the cool, green Verdugo hills of GLENDALE

—the most rapidly growing city on the Pacific Coast, a beautiful home commanding an unobstructed view of picturesque Verdugo Woodlands, constructed by our Building Department from honest materials. Compare these values with anything in or near Los Angeles.

Verdugo Woodlands seems to include everything worth while in outdoor California.

All the beauties and charms of mountains, foothills, canyons and running streams; grand old trees are here in profusion. This wooded fairy land is rich in romance and historic value. This is the place of places, cherished by the old pioneer Verdugo family and the original Adobe Home is still being preserved.

This environment is imminently connected with the early history of Southern California and for many years it was the favorite woodland retreat of the Pueblo of Los Angeles.

While a fortune has been expended for improvements and many beautiful homes adorn the crests, knolls and hillsides, the original natural beauty has been kept intact.

There is nothing hard nor formal in the whole scheme. The entire place is just as nature wrought it and it will ever be so.

Other special features are 1100 ft. elevation; pure, clear, invigorating, foothill air; soft water from mountain streams; fogless, dustless, smokeless days; beautiful boulevards; excellent car service; 35 minutes from Los Angeles and 5 minutes from Glendale business section, schools, churches, theatres, etc.

Let us send you full information regarding this wonderful spot or see our booth at the Glendale Business Men's Exposition this week.

Viewpoint

Here at the First National Bank, we strive always to gain the client's point of view—to put ourselves on the outer side of the banking windows, and see things as our customer sees them.

This policy has enabled us to determine very accurately the needs of our depositors, and to build up a friendly, earnest banking service that meets these needs.
